Detailed Action

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The instant claim sets forth an intended result without structurally correlating the structure, i.e., the attachment device and D-ring to provide the result rendering the claim indefinite. Note claim 5 obviates this deficiency.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Baale et al in view of Comfort.

Baale discloses a cable to hold a load on a lift truck.

Comfort disclose using a ring 18 and a cable 19 to secure a load on a transport.

It would have been an obvious substitution of equivalent structure to replace the strap and strap guides in Baale with a cable and ring as claimed in view of the teaching in Comfort.

Art Unit: 3652

5. Claims 3, 4, 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Baale et al in view of Comfort as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Hansen, II or Austin.

Whether one used a ring as in Comfort or any other standard ring, i.e., a D-ring as taught by Hansen or Austin would have been an obvious substitution of equivalents.

Regarding claims 7 and 8, the load in Baale would be placed on the forks, tied, moved, untied and removed since this is conventional use of a lift truck.

6. Claims 5 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
